

Loneliness

Loneliness risks were calculated from GP prescriptions for conditions related to loneliness: Alzheimer's disease; depression; hypertension; insomnia; addiction; and social anxiety.

Teal patches show parts of the UK with above-average risks of loneliness. Darker colours represent higher risk (i.e. higher rates of prescriptions for loneliness-related conditions). Brown patches show below-average risks of loneliness (e.g. lower rates of prescriptions for loneliness-related conditions).

Loneliness

- Lowest risk
- Below-average risk
- Average risk
- Above-average risk
- Highest risk

